Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit 1713

Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicants regard as the invention.

Applicants' claim language "elastomeric members including a quantity of said non-flowable elastomer material" is indefinite. It is unclear as to exactly how the elastomeric member "includes" the elastomer material. Is the elastic member manufactured from the material or is the material contained within the elastomeric member? Clarification is required.

Claim 5 does not start its own paragraph.

Claim 12 depends from claim 12.

Claim 14 depends from claim 14.

Claim 19 depends from claim 19.

The non-statutory double patenting rejection, whether of the obviousness-type or non-obviousness-type, is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent. In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); and In re Goodman, 29 USPQ 2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(b) and (c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a non-statutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.78(d).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit 1713

Claims 1-19 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-38 of U.S. Patent No. 6,026,527. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each of the elements claimed within the cushioning element is described and claimed within the patented claims.

Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Rudy or Yates.

The Yates patent shows a cushioning element which comprises elastomeric materials as well as a plurality of non-intersecting columns which are also elastic. See specifically items 42, 50 and 52. These areas are identified as being cavities and can be filled with elastomeric materials as well. See columns 4 and 5. The Rudy patent shows multi-celled cushions which reads on applicants' claim language "plurality of non-intersecting columnar elastomeric members". See Figure 3. Applicants' claimed elastomers are rendered obvious from the disclosure at column 7 lines 23+. In view of this disclosure, applicants' claims are rendered prima facie obvious.
